$\text{♩} = 210$

The image shows a musical score for a guitar riff. It consists of two staves: a standard musical staff with a treble clef and a 4/4 time signature, and a guitar tablature staff below it. The tempo is marked as quarter note = 210. The key signature has one sharp (F#). The riff is divided into four measures. The first three measures contain eighth-note patterns. The fourth measure features a slide. The tablature below the staff shows the fret numbers for each note, with 'slide' written under the final three notes of the fourth measure.

This notated music represents an interpretation of the original.
It is simply a guide to assist in determining the notes to play, and in no way replaces the original score
